Steel frames & roof trusses

With Colorbond® roof

A home is a place where memories are forged. Where years of laughter and smiles (and sometimes tears) are made every day. So when you build it, you want to know that it's going to stand the test of time. That's why building with the inner strength of Australian steel is a perfect and sensible choice. Stronger, straighter, more durable and termite proof, nothing will erode your memories. Precision engineered and built to last.
